COMPETE WITH N. & W. RAILROAD

Report That Southern and S. A. L. Are Preparing to Carry Coal to Norfolk.

FIGHTING LIQUOR LICENSES

Ladies of Norfolk Make a Protest Before Judge Allan Hanckel.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 27.—Rumors have been current among coal men here that both the Scaboard Air Line and Southern Railway are preparing to compete with the Norfolk and Western railway with the Norfolk and Western railway by bringing coal to Norfolk, but verifi-sation has not been possible. Following the publication of a dispatch from Knoxville, Tenn., that some road supposed to be the Southern or Louisville and Nashville was provided for the and Nashville was negotiating for the coal fields at Jellico, Tenn., and in Kenand Nashville was negotiating for the coal fields at Jellico, Tenn., and in Kentucky, publications were made here today which appear to confirm the reports of the intended invasion of this territory by the Southern and Bastboard.

The Seaboard Southern and Atlantic Cosat Line, it is understood, now control the Louisville and Nashville system all have tidewater terminals here and the best informed say that aside from the Norfolk and Western and the proposed Standard Oil, Tidewater Railroad, two other lines will be soon delivering coal here. The Seaboard is actively working at its line connecting it with the Crane's Nest, Virginia, coal fields.

WOMEN OPPOSE LICENSES.

Mrs. R. H. Jones, accompanied by twenty other members of the W. C. T. U., and Thomas W. Shelton, attorney, appeared in the Corporation Court this morning to protect against granting licenses to the liquor saloons about the Central City Market or in Brewer, Wolfe and Monticello Streets.

The objection to the saloons in that locality is that those streets are the thoroughtares for the women and children who go to the market and that they are exposed to the sight of drunken negroes and others who frequent the saloons there.

Judge Allan R. Hanckel, who is connegroes and others who frequent the se-jouns thre.

Judgo Allan R. Hanckel, who is con-aldering the applications for liquor lic-enses, told the applicants and the women that he would hear the arguments of both sides to-morrow at 4 P. M.

Thirty Italian laborers employed on the excavation work at the new dry-dock at the navy yard, walked out on a strike this morning.

DEAD BODY FOUND.

The body of William Cliff, white, a painter, brought to the morgue to-day and will be buried by the city unless claimed. A policeman discovered the body sitting in an upright position in Yaxley's Lane and supposing the man was drunk, signalled for the police wagon. When an attempt was made to arouse the man it was found that he was dead. He was 45 years old; was seen drinking last night, hence the supposition is that he died of alcoholism. There were no indications of violence.

the flames had been extinguished by Watchman Joseph Eddy, a boy, who displaytd remarkable coolness during the trying period.

On making his rounds he saw the reflection of a small blaze in, the rick of heading material against the building. At almost the same moment he saw a man run into the bushes at the side of the mill. With great presence of mind, he set the whistle blowing by tying down the rope attached to the whistle, and began fighting the flames, which were raging over the heading rick, having first been saturated with korosene. The owners of the various factories here have contributed a purse to defray the expenses of getting a bloodhound from Smithfield. If caught, the fiend will be lynched, so incensed are the population. A little over a/year ago two of the factories were burned by incendiary origin.

HEATHSVILLE, VA. April 27.—A reward of $200 has been recently offered by Commonwealth's Attorney C. B. Towles for the apprehension of, or information leading to the arrest of the murderer of J. W. Brasse, who was brutally killed at his home, about three miles from this place on the evening of June 7, 1901, by some unknown person. Great excitement and indignation was caused at the time by the crime, which was probably one of the most mysterious that has ever happened in the Biate, Mr. Brasse was an aged shown and the state, Mr. Brasse was an aged shown as found by some boys, brutally nature of the time was evidently committed, from the main was found by some boys, brutally nature of the crime was evidently committed, from unfortunate man had deen killed by a hatchet, and his whiskers and hair had been torn out by the roots. Everal persons were suspected of the crime, but not a shadow of evidence could be obtained. Commonwealth's Attorney L. T. Smith and other prominent men, worked hard for a fortishin or more, taking down evidence. This was taken to Richmond and Inid before a detective. The detective, however, said that it would be useless to try to work up the without more real evidence. As the crime we seed that the most detective in the detective house the crime we seed the condition of the had lived by himself for years, always on reod towns with him neighbors, all of whom seemed to like and respect him.

Since that time Mr. C. B. Towles has been elected Commonwealth's attorney, and has revived interest in the case, which had long been locked upon as a dark mysery, upon which no light would ever be shed. Now that a reward has been offered it is hoped by many that the murders will be run down and brought to justice. However, it is more than probable that the suity party has long since too his grave carrying has bloody show with him.

inquest, which took place at the Central State Hospital this evening.

His body was found this morning on the farm near the crossing of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and the Ferndaile Park electric car line of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company.

LIFTED LIVE WIRE.

Death is supposed to have been caused by his lifting a live wire, which runs from the car line to the Warren and Hunter Silk Dye Works, and sags within a few feet of the ground, near the spot where the boy's body was found.

The disappearance of Ross was noted at the dairy farm last evening, when the herd of cows returned from the pasture, followed by a riderless mule, which the boy usually rede when driving the herd. At first it was thought that he had gone over to the Central State Hospital, where his father is employed, but he never appeared, and a search early this morning resulted in the finding of the dead body.
